

Replacement Door Ad: City Callout Video

For Francisco. 25 seconds, 9:16 vertical. Same tech and van as the Phoenix Kling tune-up video, so both ads read as one brand.

The idea: one video, re-cut per city. Only the first line and the before/after photos change. [CITY] = the callout for that version.

Script

Time	Shot	Voiceover (tech to camera)	On-screen text
0-3s	Tech walks up the driveway toward camera, old door behind him	"[CITY] homeowners. That door's been baking in the sun for twenty years."	[CITY] HOMEOWNERS
3-8s	Close on the old door (use the BEFORE photo for that city)	"Faded, dented, and it sounds like a freight train every morning."
8-13s	Hard cut to the AFTER photo, same angle	"Here's the same house with a new door. One day. Done."	SAME HOUSE. ONE DAY.
13-19s	Tech in front of a new door, counting on his fingers	"$1,799 installed. That's the door, new springs, new track, and we haul the old one away. Not 'starting at.'"	$1,799 INSTALLED Springs + track + haul-away

19-22s	Tech points at camera	"Want to see yours first? Build it online and see your exact price in two minutes."	BUILD YOURS ONLINE
22-25s	Owl end card (endcard_overlay.png from the tune-up project, swap the price block)	"Garage Gurus. Tap Get Quote."	GARAGE GURUS NEW DOOR $1,799 INSTALLED 928-316-6699 / PHXGarageGurus.com ROC #360289

About 62 words of voiceover, roughly 23 seconds at a normal pace.

Hook variants (first 3 seconds; make at least A and C so we can test)

- A: "[CITY] homeowners. That door's been baking in the sun for twenty years."
- B: "[CITY] homeowners, your garage door is a third of your curb appeal."
- C: "[CITY] homeowners. What does a new garage door actually cost? $1,799. Installed."

Upscale version (Scottsdale, Fountain Hills)

- 8 to 19s voiceover: "This exact door, $2,399 installed. Real out-the-door price, done in one day."
- On-screen: THIS DOOR / $2,399 INSTALLED. End card price line: NEW DOORS FROM $1,799.

Rules

- Owl logo only (hat, shirt, van, end card). The old red-shirt mascot never appears anywhere.
- No music. Voiceover and natural sound only. Burn in captions for sound-off viewers.
- No em dashes in any on-screen text.
- Blur any visible house numbers in the customer photos.
- Keep "$1,799 installed" in both the voiceover and the on-screen text: the price is the hook.
- Deliver one file per city: GG_Replacement_[City]_HookA_v1.mp4, 1080x1920, 24fps.

Before and after photos (real Garage Gurus installs from the CRM)
